Entrance Activity Results: Most visited destinations in Harbor Centre

Results from Public Open House

The initial public open house event was held on September 17th at the John Michael Kohler Art Center. The event featured a keynote presentation on global trends impacting downtown, followed by an interactive open house format for participants to provide input on specific topics.

More than 150 individuals attended the event, and provided feedback on a range of issues including streetscape and urban design, Sheboygan and downtown economic trends, opportunities and threats facing Harbor Centre, and business improvement district opportunities and issues.

Station 1: Land Use & Urban Design

The land use and urban design table encouraged participants to share insights on the form and function of downtown. Most participants felt that downtown includes the area between Indiana and Michigan along 8th, extending westward to the River. This reinforces the importance of wayfinding signage at these key intersections to ensure that people can navigate to their destinations upon entering downtown. Participants also demonstrated a preference for traditional architecture and design while acknowledging the importance of the river and lakefront through their selection of Nautical themed stylings as a secondary preference.

Station 2: Business Improvement District Services

Station two introduced participants to business improvement district opportunities, including an overview of the type of services commonly provided by these districts. Participants were encouraged to provide feedback on the current BID model and the type of services which they see as valuable in the future. A majority of participants indicated support for the expansion of the BID north to Michigan, including existing BID members and businesses and property owners within the proposed expansion area. A desire for an all-ages district and increased waterfront access was reiterated in comments at this station, as well as a desire to support entrepreneurs and co-working arrangements.

Station 3: Economy & Business Mix

Participants were asked to rank downtown's performance according to a number of factors which are symbolic of economically successful districts. The Harbor Centre district performed the best on the positive image projected to visitors, while also receiving passing marks on the presence of well-preserved historic structures, and ease of vehicular and pedestrian circulation.

Responses were mixed on the topics of wayfinding signage and business hours, with roughly half of respondents indicating that improvements are needed, and half expressing satisfaction with existing conditions. The categories identified as most in need of improvement, illustrated in the chart below, were increased activities for all age groups and increased housing supply, with storefront enhancements ranking third.

The second activity allowed participants to identify businesses or elements which do not exist downtown but are desired in the future. The following responses were provided:

- Grocery Store/Urban farming/food (8 votes)
- Arts Coop/Center (4 votes)
- Clothing/General Retail (3 votes)
- Office/Professional Space (2 votes)
- Housing (2 votes)
- Water Taxi/Boat Rides/Water Access (2 votes)
- Information Center, Brat Museum, Less Parking, Staffed Parking Lots
